

Something New!!

Beginning September 2007 dealers, contractors and homeowners will have access to our new Model M – Custom Wood Sectional Garage Door. It will be of solid Mahogany in its standard format but we will also offer many other weather-proven species. We can provide doors in teak, oak, walnut and others with the intent of matching front doors, shutters and other architectural elements.

This model will feature stiles, rails and panels of solid wood. Insulation and back-paneling are standard. A wide variety of window designs and types may be selected. The design possibilities are endless.

Please contact your sales representative for more information.

This series compliments our other carriage style doors lines. Please ask about The Model T and The Plantation Series also.
